

2nd Quarter Project: Earning Money as a Musician

Scenario

You are a working musician living in Los Angeles. In order to pay your rent you need to earn a minimum of $800 per month, and $1,000 if you'd like to live in your own room. For the rest of this quarter, you will need to earn money by either writing, performing, or recording songs. Working on original material will earn you more money, but you can still earn cash by performing and recording cover songs. The breakdown is as follows:

How to Earn Money

Writing an original song (must be performed or recorded):	$400
Performing an original song:	$200
Recording an original song:	$200
Performing a cover song (split amongst group members):	$400
Recording a cover song (split amongst group members):	$400

Scheduling Recordings and Performances

Recordings must be booked with the studio (Mr. Glickstein) one week in advance and will be 40 minutes long (Tues-Fri). Keep in mind you may need to book more than one session per song that you are recording.

Performances will be reserved for the last fifteen minutes of class Tuesdays-Fridays, and must be booked at least one day in advance (will be held in front of teacher and classmates).

Rent is due December 4th (Thurs.) for Period 7 & December 5th (Fri.) for Period 2.

Turning in $1,000 will earn an A, and $800 will earn a B. Rent may also be turned in earlier, and extra credit can be earned for making more than $1,000.

Your plan for how you will earn money is due at the end of this week (in writing), and may be revised once before November 14th.
